

Sunday was our commitment Sunday. In response to that, we need to have some time to just celebrate with each other. Let me encourage your group to interact with these questions but also to spend some good casual time together. Play a game, eat some food, sing some songs, or spend time in prayer with each other.

Reflections on Commitment Sunday

What did our Commitment Sunday mean to you this year? Is there a specific commitment to God or to the church that is new for you or seems particularly fresh to you this year?

Reflections on our season of prayer and vision

Is there a vision that God has put on your heart for this year?

Hopes and aspirations

What are some of your hopes for our church fellowship this year?

Needs and desires

Something I think I need more of from my church family this year is...

Something I think I need to learn about this year is...

As I'm preparing my series of messages for this next year, I'm eager to know what would be an encouragement to everyone in our church. I'd really like it if you would send me your answers to these questions. Feel free to snap a photo of this page with your answers, or type them in an email to me.

Sunday was our commitment Sunday. In response to that, we need to have some time to just celebrate with each other. Let me encourage your group to interact with these questions but also to spend some good casual time together. Play a game, eat some food, sing some songs, or spend time in prayer with each other.

Reflections on Commitment Sunday

What did our Commitment Sunday mean to you this year? Is there a specific commitment to God or to the church that is new for you or seems particularly fresh to you this year?

Reflections on our season of prayer and vision

Is there a vision that God has put on your heart for this year?

Hopes and aspirations

What are some of your hopes for our church fellowship this year?

Needs and desires

Something I think I need more of from my church family this year is...

Something I think I need to learn about this year is...

As I'm preparing my series of messages for this next year, I'm eager to know what would be an encouragement to everyone in our church. I'd really like it if you would send me your answers to these questions. Feel free to snap a photo of this page with your answers, or type them in an email to me.